

Best Practices for Supporting Migrant Women with Lived Experience of Human Trafficking

Wednesday, March 12th from 10 - 11:30AM EST

This workshop led by the FCJ Refugee Centre aims to deepen your understanding and strengthen the support systems available for migrant women and gender-diverse people navigating the complexities of human trafficking and precarious immigration status.

What to expect from this workshop:

- ✓ Gain insights from lived experience-informed best practices
- ✓ Enhance your understanding of the barriers faced by survivors with precarious immigration status and how to address them effectively
- ✓ Learn strategies to provide holistic, survivor-centered support
- ✓ Engage in a discussion on fostering resilience and empowerment

We welcome all service providers that work directly and indirectly with survivors of GBV to participate!

About the Facilitator

Chiara Andrea Rossi is the Anti-Human Trafficking Women's Program Coordinator at the FCJ Refugee Centre, where she supports migrant women and gender-diverse people who have experienced human trafficking and gender-based violence.

The Anti-Human Trafficking Team at the FCJ Refugee Centre offers holistic, survivor-centred services to people who have experienced trafficking.
